EVERYONE WELCOME

Director & Author

In We All Bleed Red (2024), Josephine Links takes us behind the work of photographer Martin Schoeller, whose portraits span an extraordinary range of American life: from presidents and celebrities to drag queens, transgender people, unhoused individuals, and Indigenous communities.

Join us for a conversation about Martin Schoeller, American society and representation, photography, and the craft of documentary filmmaking — with the director herself.

SEE you there !!
